 DURATION: AS LONG AS YOU NEED

MATERIALS REQUIRED: PENCIL AND PAPER

SEE LIKE A POET

Aim: Write a poem about what you experience outside.

Instructions: Go out for a walk, scoot or ride. What can you see? What can you hear? What can you smell? What can you feel? Can you think of words that rhyme with these words? When you're back home, write a poem about what you saw, heard, smelt and felt using these rhyming words. Use the template on the next page to help.

Extension: Write another verse for your poem. Learn it by heart.

The World Around Me

When I go outside, I like to take pride,
 In sensing the world around me,
 My nose, ears, eyes and fingers are all wise,
 The outdoors is a marvellous place to be.

I see _____,

I hear _____,

I smell _____,

I feel _____.

The World Around Me

When I go outside, I like to take pride,
 In sensing the world around me,
 My nose, ears, eyes and fingers are all wise,
 The outdoors is a marvellous place to be.

I see the bird feeder, and the robin who's the leader,
 I hear the breeze, as it tickles all the trees,
 I smell the soggy dog, and I throw it a small log,
 I feel the brick wall, as it rises up tall.

When I go outside, I like to take pride,
 In sensing the world around me,
 My nose, ears, eyes and fingers are all wise,
 The outdoors is a marvellous place to be.
